

REGULAR SESSION BOARD OF TRADE RECENTLY HELD

The Gleichen Board of Trade held a regular session in Dufré's Coffee Shoppe last week. The minutes of the last meeting were read and upon motion of Messrs. Boyd and Gattman were adopted.

The Horticultural Association was discussed and the committee was asked to bring in a report at the next meeting outlining the proposed activities for the 1933 season.

The Auto Cam committee report given by M. T. Purcell recommended the planting of fifteen poplars and some 200 caryagans on the north and northeast side of the grounds. Messrs. Michael and Black were appointed a committee to interview the town council to have the camp cleaned up, the Board of Trade agreeing to keep up the good work for the balance of the season.

Mr. Sutermeister reporting for the tree planting committee submitted a plan necessitating an outfit of 50 plus freight charges and cartage which would complete the northside of the lake with poplars and spruce and also complete the shelter belt on the west and north of the bathing house as far as poplars and spruce are concerned. 100 trees were also allowed for replacement and vacant lots in the town itself. This program was adopted.

The question of the irrigation nursery was widely discussed and a number of propositions dealt with. It was finally moved by Messrs. Boyd and M. Brown that the Athletic Club and the Board of Trade sponsor the day jointly and that the proceeds be divided 75 percent to the Athletic Club and 25 percent to the Board of Trade. This motion carried with the addition that all games of chance be left to the Athletic Club to arrange for and the proceeds left with them.

J. F. Gorrill reported for the library committee. The proposal was to have the same located in the town council room with the town secretary as librarian. All over 15 years of age would be allowed to use it. It was decided to purchase the books offered by the Calgary library and to resolve the donations. The committee, consisting of Messrs. Gorrill, Boyd and Gilbert was asked to continue their good work with power to add. An expenditure of $10 was authorized for shelving to house the books.

On motion of Messrs. Sutermeister and Green, a committee of three was appointed to work with the Athletic Club to arrange for a hockey banquet in honor of the Gunners. Messrs. R. W. Harrison, Greer and Black were appointed.

A Boys' Scout jamboree is to be held in Gleichen and Mr. J. Black asked for the wholehearted support of the Board of Trade in this. Many members volunteered their help and as a body it was decided to give one hundred per cent support. One member was asked to contribute 25c to the Gleichen Boys' Scouts.

"The study of economics" was the topic discussed by Geo. Goodenough in a far reaching and much enjoyed address.

R. C. Hugh, commissioner of the Boys' Scout movement in the Bow Valley district will be invited to address the Board of Trade at its April meeting.

The following members were present: Messrs. Purcell, McQueen, Boyd, M. Brown, Greer, Kelly, Johnston, Gilbert, Michael, Goodenough, Greenstaden, Dunsen, Harrison, Black, Dufre, Gorrill, Sutherland, Sutermeister and Murray.

Just too sweet for anything. The great Canadian institution, the tramp, starts out from his winter quarters and is off to the rural districts, leaving up out of railroad ties, and the farmer out of a square meal, giving a wild berth to wood piles, bull dogs and policy, the kids with an eye to business, are galloping up the empty beer bottles in the highway and byways, and disposing of them for five cents and six, the spring post, the same one we killed last year, comes to life again, and springs more of the same kind upon the innocuous pencil pusher, putting the latter into a helpless state of lameness, and a "tired" feeling generally, the old man puts new hinges on the gate, whitewashes the chicken coop, digs in the garden about five minutes, and then goes down to the drug store and returns "lucky" his better half has a wild look in her eye as she sits down and tells the hired girl that they've better remember in "the best room" that Charlie, married in ice cream pants and a 76 cent straw hat, calls on Mary Ann, and wipes all the paint off the front of the car loaded down with kids, movie tips and electric, start on their erratic career from one end of the town to the other and make a good deal of money with the clock under an arm and a milk under the other, and "God bless our home" string around his neck. In discussions on every hand tell us that spring is here.

News Items of Local Interest

Some of the local fishermen spent a day fishing at Lake McGregor. They cut holes in the ice in order to fish and reported fair success in catching fish.

The appointment of Dr. W. H. Hill as medical health officer for the city of Calgary is of interest to Gleichen old timers, for some will remember him when he worked in the Bank of Commerce here in 1912. It was while he was acting manager at Stoney Plain that he gave up banking to enter the university to study medicine.

Monday evening the first lightning display of the year was seen to the southwest of town. Around nine that night a light snow was falling and by morning about an inch of snow covered the ground, but during the day practically all of it disappeared.

More than 60,000 bushels of registered seed grain, most of it which have been distributed among farmers in the province under the seed grant exchange policy inaugurated by Hon. George Ross, minister of agriculture. Under this plan it has been possible for farmers to exchange commercial grain from their farms for seed grain on the basis of a premium of eight and half cents a bushel for the seed over the current market price. This grain interest of cash is taken from the farmers for the seed. The distribution of the 60,000 bushels under this plan has been very widespread, covering 36 points from the northwestern tip of the province to Fallow in the north. The grain distributed includes 47,000 bushels of seed wheat, 17,000 bushels of seed oats and about 2,000 bushels of seed barley. It is expected that some 15,000 bushels more of oats will be distributed.

Rev. H. M. Horricks, M.A., B.D., of Calgary addressed a Gleichen audience in the United Church, Sunday evening. All who attended stay they thoroughly enjoyed his address.

In one town in western Canada the shoe is on the other foot. A few months ago the editor of the weekly paper suspended business and moved out of town. Surely no business man in these hard times closed up his paying business, and if it were not a paying business it would appear that he did not have the support of advertising merchants and good paying subscribers—that the people of that community did not appreciate the value of the local paper for the community. The community has now had a short experience in doing without a newspaper and printing office and the result is merchants and business men are now advertising for an editor. Evidently a very few months have proven the need of a local paper and printing office. It is doubtful if the proposition will appeal to the people of that community now. A town which did not give sufficient support to its local ear when it had one, to keep it there, will provide no incentive to another to make a venture.

dis ages, and as probably. There is not a great deal of room in business these days for Aunt Sarah, who inherited a shoe factory and insisted that the factory go on making high-laced shoes because they were sold years ago. Canadian business never was more dynamic and volatile than it is today, with a constantly changing front in practically all lines.

Since 1921, business has left as monuments of its progress a long succession of junk-buses of discarded practices, antiquated ideas and obsolete policies. There have been tragedies of those who clung too long to reversed and once profitable practices.

The new business man must be eager to take advantage of slightest changes in trend. It is no day for the "old-time" business man. He should not be longing and desirous of what is behind, but intelligently inquisitive of facts.

Miss Jean McConnell entertained a number of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. Wm. McConnell, on Friday evening.

There was a good attendance at the entertainment part on in the United Church, last Wednesday evening by the members of the Sunday school. The plays, songs and recitations put on by the young folks was far above the average. So good was the act that they kept the interest of the audience until the last curtain was rung down, showing that much time had been spent in practicing.

Because the uneven distribution of population in Canada, the daily national newspapers are the most logical, economical and most profitable advertising media. They will do the job for an advertiser that no other medium can do. Newspapers are so flexible, you can control your copy and your expenditure in dollars at twenty-four hours notice and in the weeklies at one week's notice. You can cut this with any other medium. When once you're contracted for it—there you are. That is why the department chain stores and all progressive retailers use them so profusely. They may be a little good will publicity in other media, but for real sales they stick to newspapers.

Canada's fifth annual mid-winter golf tourney, over the sparkling fairways of the Oak Bay Victoria Golf Links for the E. W. Bunting Trophy, started February 21 with an entry list of 75 men and 45 women. They came from British Columbia, United States, British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces.

That caught in the sea fisheries of Canada, in 1932 totalled 711,577,800 pounds valued at over $11,000,000. Of the total catch, British Columbia accounted for 127,513,000 pounds; Nova Scotia, 184,741,000 pounds; New Brunswick, 81,064,800 pounds; Quebec, 47,044,400 pounds and Prince Edward Island, 21,738,000 pounds.

The Place Viger Hotel, Montreal, centre for thirty-odd years for the Colborne-John Company legal and social life of the Province of Quebec, has been the scene of a further lease of life under Canadian Pacific direction after Colborne-John was to have been sold down permanently January 21, 1933, and powerful negotiations brought about the result.

A record-breaking ride through the Rockies on their three-day special clipped four hours from the regular train-schedule in what Canadian Pacific Railway officials believe to be the fastest run ever made for the 505 miles from Vancouver to Field recently. The run was made by the Colborne-John Company playing "The True to be Good," a play which has been the very last train had left Vancouver and caught up with it at Field.

COMMUNITY FORUM ORGANIZED AT CRAIGANTLER

The meeting to organize the Community Forum was held at the town in the afternoon and was fairly well attended. The chairman gave an outline on the object of the meeting. D. McLean gave the chairman great credit for being the man to see for enough

Mr. St. Sheets gave a short address on how to get along without money and to take a tip from the country to the south of us and do without the banks.

The next question discussed was the twelve good publications to subscribe for so that the club members would get some knowledge of what was going on in the outside world. Sandy Perry suggested we get Hask, Jack Canack and the Eys Opener. Some of the members thought that was a good idea but Bailey Schriber suggested that we get some publications from across the line, such as Liberty, True Detective and Chicago Herald. H. B. Grant thought it would be only right to give the local publications a chance and recommended The Call, Strathmore Standard and J. P. Hansen's Weekly Bulletin. L. Seigerson stated he would like to see three from the old land, the Copenhagen News, Dron Gazette and the Swedish Examiner.

Bert Hancock gave a speech on his experiences as a bachelor for the past forty years, while Capt Grant spoke of his experiences on the Nile river in Egypt away back in the late eighties. Carl Shasta was called upon to say a few words, but he thought Fred Dankwerth could make a better speech. Fred on rising stated he was pleased to address the meeting and announced that Bill Jensen had just received the agency to sell bugles potatoes and would be at the next meeting to talk on the subject. Here Dankwerth thought we should go in more for publications on fertilizer. As it was beginning to get late all before dawn so V. Green brought up the question of a picnic in July. This question was shelved for another meeting. The chairman thought all had better make a 25c contribution to go toward the publications after which the meeting adjourned to meet again on April 1st at 2:30 p.m.

A Financial Jig Saw Puzzle.

The fact has been noted in this column on previous occasions that during the past two or three years everybody has been discussing the monetary situation prevailing in the world today, and expressing opinions and offering solutions in regard thereto even though they lacked the most elementary knowledge of the subject. People informed and uninformed, from the most outstanding economists and financiers to the most indifferent student or casual newspaper reader, have discussed banking, currency, credits, the gold standard, inflation, deflation, international exchange, and a host of allied subjects, with the same freedom and frequently with the same assurance with which they are in the habit of discussing the weather.

This, of course, people have a right to do, but the net result has been the dissemination of a vast amount of misinformation and utterly unground theories, the outcome of which is that large numbers of people are not thinking straight on this important subject, while the majority of the population are hopelessly bewildered and confused, and do not know whence or what opinions to accept as sound and a safe guide to action.

Nor is this to be wondered at, because even some of the most generally accepted theories—theories advanced by world famous economists—have been proven incorrect, even to the test of actual experience. This was demonstrated in most startling fashion in the United States in the last few days of February and the first days of March. Events across the lines moved with great rapidity, and the outcome was to upset previously held views in some important particulars.

Great Britain went off the gold standard in order to check the draining away of its gold reserves and to stop the export of gold from the country. It frankly and officially announced it had gone off the gold standard. The United States had accumulated more than a third of all the gold in the world, yet it, too, reached the point where it was necessary to stop all gold export, just as Canada had stopped it. But, unlike Great Britain, both Canada and the United States insisted they were still on the gold standard. So, people are asking, what is a gold standard? What does it mean?

But the most surprising development in the United States is that the Government authorized the issue of some millions of dollars of new paper money which was not backed by gold at all, yet the Government insisted the country was still on the gold standard. The issue of this new currency was not without instant effect on Canadian dollar and British pounds, it actually increased in value and was worth more. The discount on the Canadian dollar in the United States was increased, and the premium on the United States dollar in Canada became larger.

Now, according to formerly generally accepted financial opinion, the issue of such new currency backed by gold would have the effect of depreciating the value of the country's currency. That is, the United States dollar would drop in value in relation to the currencies of other countries. The amazing thing that happened was, instead of the United States dollar losing worth less in terms of Canadian dollars and British pounds, it actually increased in value and was worth more. The discount on the Canadian dollar in the United States was increased, and the premium on the United States dollar in Canada became larger.

This process was exactly the reverse of what every financial authority and authoritative economist in Canada had been telling the people of this Dominion would be the effect of inflating our currency by the issue of new paper money which was not supported by a gold backing. Such inflation, we were told, would be the abandonment of "sound money," would result in a further depreciation of our money on the world's money markets, and would seriously injure our credit. But the United States proceeds to inflate to the tune of billions of dollars, the Government declares it is "sound money," and instead of United States dollars depreciating on foreign exchange markets, they actually increase in value.

If this is the effect in the United States, why should an exactly opposite effect be the result in Canada if a similar policy was indulged in? It will be interesting to hear the explanations of our Canadian financiers and economists.

It has been widely contended that inflation should be indulged in by Canada to an extent sufficient to bring the Canadian dollar to a parity with the British pound and thereby produce a larger volume of trade between the two countries and secure to the primary producer in Canada a better price in Canadian dollars for the products he sold in Great Britain. But, it was likewise argued, another effect would be to increase the already heavy premium Canada is now obliged to pay on all its commitments in the United States.

But, as already noted, inflation in the United States had not worked this way, but in exactly the opposite way. It has not brought the United States dollar near the British pound, but it has driven it away from it. It has increased the premium which Canada has to pay in New York, but it has increased it. If inflation worked the same way in Canada it would not prove an advantage to the primary producers, who have been urging inflation, but impose a further loss upon them. It would not be to the benefit of our governments and business interests having large commitments to meet in New York, and who have therefore opposed inflation, but it would assist them.

It is all far more complicated and confusing than a jig-saw puzzle because the pieces do not fit together at all, while in the popular puzzles of today the pieces can be made to fit.

Caribou and Fish Plentiful

Traders Say Depression Means Little in Sub-Arctic

Depression means little in the north country where there is abundance of fish and large herds of caribou.

According to James Darwish, fur trader of Port Rae, on Great Slave Lake,

It was the trader's first trip out of the "territories" in 30 years.

Modern conveniences, such as the radio and aeroplane, have greatly changed life in the sub-Arctic.

Mr. Darwish said, "The 700-mile journey from the end of the line to Port Rae is a month's trip by dog team, today is covered by plane in six or seven hours."

Mails are delivered monthly in place of the old half-yearly service, and a fur trader now can move his furs "outside" and sell them shortly after they are trapped.

Conserving Motor Fuel

Following the increased use of horses everywhere, word now comes from Ontario that the days of the motorcar are numbered. As a fuel conservation measure, those heating even-numbered license plates can be operated only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and those with odd-numbered plates on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Kingston, a new variety of cheese, developed at the University of British Columbia, is claimed to be so easily digestible that it may be safely eaten by either infants or invalids.

Miracles Of Will Power

Extraordinary Things Accomplished By People Who Are Disabled

The ordinary man or woman looks upon the loss of a limb or the sight of one eye as a great calamity. Yet it is an extraordinary fact that those who do suffer in this fashion usually triumph over their disability. William S. Tilden, the great tennis champion, has a crippled right hand which does not prevent him, however, from handling the racket better than most normal players.

The one-legged Dane, Lutz Heide, is a renowned long-distance jumper, and so is the one-legged German Lieutenant Redeker. The Dane jumps with one leg, while the German usually keeps on his first attempt of light mental. The one-armed Frenchman, Dulest, won the first prize in the great motorcycle race of 1924. The German sportsman, Knorr, whose right side is completely paralyzed, has won distinction as a long-distance driver. There is an armless English artist who drives his car with his feet. There is even a crippled bull-fighter, the Spanish matador, Juan Belmonte. He limps and stoops in ordinary life, but in the arena his grace and agility are unequalled.

Obviously that list will not tell all tales. Some books will be included that will surprise many well read people when they think upon the subject. Some will find the inclusion of Marx's book not to their thinking, but must remember that it is, whether we may like it or not, one of the world's greatest books. If we have not like it there are plenty of very different books in the selection that may amuse us. Some are serious and not at all humorous. Some are humorous and not at all serious. Twelve Best Books

In English Language

List Selected Banned Bible First and Shakespeare Second

An English Journal has been offering prizes for the selection by its readers of the 12 best books in the English language. To select the 12 best books is a task that might well commend the best informed and most discriminating reader, but it is also one of those leisure employments that has more merit in it than some that are widely employed. At any rate, apparently the readers of the Journal in question found the pursuit of the 12 best books in the language quite fascinating, for the paper received a great many lists and the selection was greeted with much interest.

It is of interest to note the list selected as the best submitted. The books are given in the order that it was said they should be read. Here they are: The Bible, Shakespeare, Boswell's Johnson, Plato's Dialogues, Pops's Diary, Bacon's Essays, Lamb's Tales, and the list of the Pilgrims' Golden Treasury, Isaac Walton's Compleat Angler, Karl Marx's Capital, Tolstoy's War and Peace.

Obviously that list will not tell all tales. Some books will be included that will surprise many well read people when they think upon the subject. Some will find the inclusion of Marx's book not to their thinking, but must remember that it is, whether we may like it or not, one of the world's greatest books. If we have not like it there are plenty of very different books in the selection that may amuse us. Some are serious and not at all humorous. Some are humorous and not at all serious. Radio And The News

All News Items Broadcast Gathered First By Papers

Those good people who are forever hearing this news and that announced "over the radio" and who seem to think that broadcasting stations are quicker than newspaper editors in gathering and giving news, may be interested in a dispatch from Sioux Falls, South Dakota. It tells of a judge signing a restraining order against a broadcasting company which had been using the news of the American Associated Press. The suit, the first of its kind on record, was filed to determine the legal right of a news gathering association to prevent the unauthorized use of its dispatches by a broadcasting station.

Many people appear to think that the radio has news of its own. It hasn't. All the news of the radio broadcast has been gathered by newspapers. It is newspaper editors and newspapermen who are the source of the news that the radio broadcasts. It is most cases it is news given to the radio by the newspapers.

When, last November, the two chief United States broadcasting companies put the presidential election results on the air, some people were heard to say that they had been told the newspapers. The actual position was that everything put on the air by radio on election night was taken from the newspapers. The newspapers permitted the radio to take and use this news despite the fact that its collection had cost the newspapers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Newspapers have been co-operating with the radio, have been giving it news. That, however, is a far different thing from radio allocating to itself the right to use news that has been collected by the newspapers at tremendous cost. Because it is a different thing, and because this new question has arisen in Canada, the decision in South Dakota is of more than passing interest.—Ottawa Journal.

Jobless Helped By Students

Living Quarters Have Been Provided On McGill Campus

University students have been successful in a novel experiment in the relief of young unemployed men in Montreal. A number of young men selected from a refuge for the unemployed last fall and have since been maintained by the student body. They are housed at the various campus living quarters and mingle with the students. Their normal working hours are spent in furthering their education by attending lectures. Funds are raised through various campus entertainment, such as dances, afternoon teas and the production of plays. It is planned to increase the number of young men as the funds of the committee grow.

The Sky-Ride Railway

Will Give Visitors To Chicago Exhibition A Real Thrill

The coming exhibition in Chicago is intended to mark a century of progress, and the primitive things of life will be seen in juxtaposition with the latest word of science in 1933. What is intended primarily for giving visitors a thrill is the "sky-ride railway," but to all intents and purposes it may be the first showing and public use of a new invention in transportation which may be the common place mode of travel a few years hence.

The "sky-ride" will consist of twin towers, placed 2,600 feet apart, reaching 625 feet above the ground. They will be higher than any Chicago building. Elevators are being installed to whisk passengers sky stories from the ground, from which height it will be possible to see four states—Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin—while below, like a vast animated map, will be the famous exposition grounds. Lake Michigan and Chicago.

At the 200-foot level the towers will be connected by steel steel cables, which will be the common place mode of travel a few years hence. The span between the towers will be 3,850 feet, second only to that of the George Washington Bridge. "Sky-Ride" will have a capacity of 4,800 persons an hour and will afford an excellent opportunity for a bird's eye view of the grounds.

The cars will have the appearance of a rocket, with a tapering nose at the front and exhaust tubes projecting from the sides. From the front of the car will be discharged. It will be to this world's fair, where the Eiffel Tower was to the Paris exposition in 1900.—St. Thomas Times Herald.

Cost Is About Half

Substitute For Cod Liver Oil Contains Vitamins

By blending codfish oil with oil from the livers of dogfish or sharks an oil has been secured containing all the vitamins potency of cod liver oil and at about half the cost. This oil has been named "Marinol" and it is expected it will be largely used for human consumption, according to H. N. Brockley, associate chemist at the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experiment Station.

Mr. Brockley also told how a cooking fat equal in all respects to the best vegetable oil has been manufactured out of fish oil which it was thought would prove a valuable food product and would provide a valuable outlet for fish oils. This is now being demonstrated at Vancouver and good results are expected.

The station has been studying the effects of decay in fish and the chemical reactions with the result that today the scientists can open a can of salmon and, by analyzing a spoonful of the oil at the top, can tell how long the fish was out of water before it was canned, what variety of fish it was and whether it was caught in the Skeena or Fraser.

France Still Pays Annuity

Male Descendant Of Man Who Saved Napoleon Receives Annual Payout

A French annuity is paid to seventy-five-year-old Ludwig Gerwin, of Cologne. He is the last male descendant of Prince Spohr, who saved Napoleon in the Battle of Austerlitz in 1805. Napoleon was about to be captured by the Russians, when Spohr charged into the ranks and, with the Emperor, allowing him to escape. Spohr died a year later in Vienna. Napoleon ordered that his male descendants be paid an annual revenue, and despite three intervening wars between France and Germany the order has been faithfully carried out to this day.

Life Insurance Firm Disbursing Large Sums

Amount Paid To Canadian Policyholders Last Year Averaged $600,000 A Day

Life insurance companies disbursed in Canada to policyholders and their heirs the record-breaking total of $186,000,000 in 1932, according to an estimate prepared by The Financial Post of Toronto.

This figure covers the disbursements of both Canadian and foreign companies in Canada in respect to all payments to policyholders and beneficiaries and represents an increase of over 17 per cent. above the corresponding figure of 1931. It covers both federal and provincial licensed companies and shows that Canadian policyholders or their heirs received from life insurance companies in the past year more than $600,000 every working day. The figure is just double the amount distributed five years ago.

Chief reason for the amazing increase in policy payments by life insurance companies in recent years—in spite of a sharp drop in policy dividend payments—has been the heavy dependence for cash surrenders. Everywhere, wage-earners and business and professional men, who have been hard pressed for money, have secured or inter-locked back on the equity in their life insurance contracts to meet these financial demands. This has been natural, of course, since the past two years of depression have been met without hesitation and without any sacrifice of invested funds.

Findings Bold Of Soldiers

Some Battlefields Yield Dead At Rate Of 800 A Year

Bodies of British soldiers are still being found on the Somme, according to the rate of 800 a year, according to the annual report of Major-General Sir Philip Vickers, Commander of the Imperial War Museum. It was estimated that by last autumn there would be no further signs in existing cemeteries in the Somme area, consequently negotiations for the return of the bodies to the French Government for the management of the Gilmont Road Cemetery.

General Waro says: "In considering now on the hardly less difficult and exacting labors involved in the maintenance, in many lands, of the government, religion, and civilization, in physical and climatic conditions, the commission fee secure in the support which has been built up to ensure the future. For, during the 15 years that they have been at work, there have been developed a stronger international organization than has ever before existed."

"All governments of the British Commonwealth have for the first time joined together in an active partnership founded not on defense of competing interests, not merely on negative freedom from the dominating control of the senior member, but on a positive relationship, which has increased with growing confidence month by month as they have met in council, that each partner can contribute to the solution of common difficulties, experience and knowledge of affairs unequalled in their extent, their variety, and their cumulative power."

Painful For Palmists

Palmists make a great mistake in deciding to tell fortunes from the lines in the palm instead of from the lines in the finger. It is every person, according to Dr. S. E. Whitman, professor of anatomy at McGill University. The lines in the palm are merely a reflection of the state of the blood, as the lines in the finger are a reflection of the state of the mind.

Bacon Exports Higher

Canada exported 53,829,400 lbs. of bacon and hams, and sides, valued at $2,704,871, during 1932, compared with 51,775,200 pounds and a value of $2,035,387 for similar products exported in the calendar year 1931.

EXCESS FAT RUINING HER HEALTH

Better After Losing 14 lbs.

There are a number of bodily ailments that are apt to arise from excess fat. Excess fat is reduced in the right way, very often improved in health follows—as it did with this woman:—

"I used to have a great deal of fat that seemed to nearly stop me breathing, especially when I went down to my knees. I was always waking up a hill. I would simply have to fight for my breath for about 20 minutes. But now that I have lost 14 lbs. in weight, and am able to get about in comfort, I can work all day and not feel tired. I feel so much better, and am so pleased to have lost some of the fat that was steadily gaining ground with me, and ruining my general health."

There are six vital mineral salts in Klenox. These salts assist the body to perform their functions properly. They also assist the body to absorb products and poisons which, if allowed to accumulate, will be converted by the body's chemistry into fatty tissue. Unlike ordinary laxatives, Klenox does not irritate the action to a single part of the system. Its tonic effects extend to every organ of the body.

For instance, an observer not long ago might have seen a country road not far from London a workman with the usual road-repairing paraphernalia engaged upon some supposed repairs. If he had carefully watched he would have noticed that the man dug out and filled in the same hole time and time again!

The repairs were policemen and the "right workman" was a constable. The movements of a man under suspicion for a grave crime were under observation.

Missing Class Which Hammer Scotland Yard

Crown Never Prosecutes Until Chain Of Evidence Appears Complete

Scotland Yard never numbers in any of these departments an unsolved crime is not a pigeon-holed crime. And only death or conviction writes "completed" on a dossier, says a London newspaper.

During the last few years there have been several number of callous brutality and cunning. The microscans are still at large. But in three cases the "Yard" are satisfied as to their identity.

The Crown, however, never prosecutes until the chain of evidence is complete. It appears to be complete. In these three cases there is a missing link. Given that and the chain would be complete. The search for it is unending.

In the case of these certain events have brought its discovery nearer. And sensational developments are not unexpected. The Paracase was a detective played the part of a street musician. Equally ingenious guesses and disguises are adopted frequently.

For instance, an observer not long ago might have seen a country road not far from London a workman with the usual road-repairing paraphernalia engaged upon some supposed repairs. Little Helps For This Week

One Owned By Lord Nelson Recently Sold In London

An auction sale was held in the West-end of London, England, recently of a collection of objects. It was for sale. It brought the equivalent of $7,700 par value. It was not nearly as good as any modern apogee. A few of the objects were, but it was encrusted with diamonds. But it is probably the most famous of its kind in the world.

It was the glass that Nelson held up to his blind eye and said, quite truthfully, that he did not see an overwhelming armada bearing down upon his feet at Trafalgar.

At the same sale $800 was paid for the silver watch presented to British Admiral.

Prices Conducts Band

The Prince of Wales, using a drumstick for a baton, conducted the band in a lively frolic at the St. David's Day dance given by the 1st Battalion of the Welsh Guards, of which he is the Colonel. The Prince's rendition was repeatedly encored until he had to leave the dancers that conducting was more strenuous than carrying his baton.
